VARIANCE PROCEDURES

Building site setbacks and other property development standards are defined by the Zoning Ordinance. A request for a variance is a request to modify these development standards and requirements for a particular lot or parcel under special circumstances only. These special circumstances relate to the applicant's property not the person. Examples of special circumstances are extreme topographic conditions such as a property that has a steep grade which makes a part of the site unbuildable, or adhering to the setback requirements would cause an unnecessary destruction of significant vegetation.

A variance may be granted only where there are special circumstances applicable to the subject property. A personal hardship does not justify a variance. A variance is not granted for a hardship which has been intentionally created. The need for an "adequate financial return" is not a legitimate reason for a variance. Please note that because a person applies for a variance does not necessarily mean the variance will be approved. The request for a variance must meet the special circumstances for granting a variance while preserving the general intent and purposes of the Zoning Ordinance. It is recommended that you discuss your request with Gila County Staff before you apply.

To apply for a variance the following need to be submitted:

- 1 A non-refundable application fee of $150.00.
- 2 A completed application form.
- 3 A reproducible 8½" x 11" to scale plot plan containing the items outlined on the application form. (See attached example plot plan)

The decision to approve or deny a variance is made at a public hearing by the Board of Adjustments and Appeals. Gila County Staff will write a staff report and make a recommendation on the variance request to the Board of Adjustment and Appeals. At least 15 days before this public hearing a notice of the request is sent to the applicant and adjacent property owners, the hearing date is advertised in the paper, and the subject property is posted with a notice of the hearing. The applicant must attend the meeting to present their view and to answer any comments or questions regarding their request. If the variance is granted, the applicant may apply for a building permit. An appeal to the Board of Adjustment's decision must be submitted within 30 days of the decision, and must be made to the Superior Court.
