Notice of Non-Covered Allergy Treatment

It has recently been brought to the attention of the Arizona Local Government Employee Benefit Trust (AZLGEBT) that some medical providers have been treating allergies with Sublingual Immunotherapy (SLIT). SLIT is a form of allergy treatment that involves putting drops of allergen extracts under the tongue as opposed to using injections. Based upon research conducted by Administrative Enterprises, Inc. (AEI), the Trust's Claims Administrator, SLIT is not an FDA approved treatment method for allergies, and therefore is not covered under AZLGEBT's medical benefit program.
