Description: The Jacob and Teresa Hershey Foundation awards Environmental Education Grants to promote environmental literacy, with funding for elementary and secondary schools, museums, and nonprofit organizations. Requests may be for operating, project, or capital grants, with emphasis on innovative ideas that produce multiple benefits and measurable impact. Grants support evidence-based teacher training and educational programming on environmental literacy for children and youth and high-quality programming to expand understanding of nature, conservation principles, and web of life. Preferred impacts are improved critical-thinking skills on environmental issues; increased appreciation for science, nature, and the outdoors; and increased exposure to nature.

Eligible applicants are US nonprofit organizations, schools, and museums, with emphasis on the geographic areas of Houston and Austin, Texas; southern Colorado; and the rest of the United States. The application process requires an initial Letter of Inquiry (LOI), which must be submitted using the online system. Based on the LOI, an applicant may be invited to submit a full proposal.

Eligibility: Public, Charter, Other (including homeschool, 501 (c)(3) organizations)

Award(s): Awards vary.

Deadline(s): Letters of Inquiry are accepted from June 4 through July 16, 2021.

Phone: 413.256.8306 ext. 102

Email: zachary@peacefund.org (For questions)

Description: The Peace Development Fund awards De Colores Rapid Response Grants to impact short-term opportunities for organizing in marginalized urban and rural communities, with emphasis on supporting populations of color and those that are working class and poor. Previous grants include education-focused activities to empower communities to strengthen public schools and ensure more excellence and equity for all students. Opportunities should be strategic and respond to unanticipated events. Among restrictions, funding cannot be used for start-up or operating costs, regularly scheduled programs, previously planned campaigns, or individual efforts. Project budgets should be less than $5,000.

Eligible applicants are nonprofit coalitions and organizations doing grassroots organizing in the United States, with priority to groups with budgets less than $250,000 and limited access to philanthropic resources. An application for providing initial information is available on the website, and complete applications must be submitted online. Organizations are then contacted to discuss their request. Decisions are made within one to three weeks and funding provided the following week.

Eligibility: Public, Private, Other (including homeschool, 501 (c)(3) organizations)

Award(s): Awards range from $500 to $1,000.

Deadline(s): Applications are accepted on a rolling basis.
